Reflections

1947-1977. Just a span of thirty years, yet so much has been accomplished.

Many changes have occurred since that day in September, 1947 when eleven students enrolled in the first classes. The original classroom building, Macrina Hall, still exists and serves as St. Basil's Novitiate House. The college has transferred to a parcel of land adjoining the opposite side of the motherhouse.

The beauty of the sprawling campus remains unmarred by commercialism, the majestic granite buildings enhancing this beauty--so much has transpired in the past thirty years and there is so much to be grateful for. Our "manoramic" eye envisions yet greater things to come.

THIRTIETH ANNIVERSARY FESTIVITIES HIGHLIGHT 1977-1978 ACADEMIC YEAR

Manor's Thirtieth Anniversary celebrations began with a Pontifical Divine Liturgy on September 24. The Most Reverend Basil H. Losten, then Apostolic Administrator of the Philadelphia Archeparchy was the main celebrant.

A reception for all guests was held in the college dining hall following the Liturgy.

The majesty, the splendor and the beautiful liturgical singing and Divine Liturgy, made this sacred event a most memorable and fitting one to open the anniversary festivities.

Dr. Irene P. Matejko, Class of '66, delivered the keynote address. She emphasized the influence of her teachers at Manor on her future education and in determining her whole approach to life.

Sr. Claire presents the traditional Ukrainian bread for Bishop Losten's blessing preceding the processional to the altar to celebrate the Pontifical Divine Liturgy. Father Basil Juli assisted as deacon.

A gala Banquet and Ball was held in the college auditorium on November 12.

A special feature of the evening was the honoring of the past presidents of the college--Mother M. Josaphat Theodorovych (deceased foundress), Mother Marie Dolzycka, first president, Mother Eusebia (deceased), Sr. Jerome Roman, Sr. M. Euphrosyne Gewetchka, and Sr. Olga Kish. Commemorative plaques were presented to the living presidents by the Most Rev. Basil H. Losten.

MADAY EXHIBIT

An exhibition of paintings, ceramics, watercolors and sculpture of Philadelphia artist, Andrij Maday, was one of the many 30th Anniversary happenings. Above, Sister Miriam Claire, President of Manor, gives the welcoming address and introduction of the artist, (center), at the opening reception. Looking on is Dr. Tatiana Cisyk, a member of Manor's Advisory Board, which sponsored the event.

THIS DISTANCE BETWEEN US
For almost a year now
the two of us have sat across from each other rather like children
in an unbalanced watching

You set against the sky while
I, the older, heavier,
remained grounded,
content in my proper satisfaction
at being commander in this small part of your life-
the fulcrum of its ups and downs

And with a certain trepidation
I chose to slight this natural advantage,
to unburden myself in unproportional inches:
a halting movement towards you,
an effort to bring us into balance with a conscious push of the pendulum

Still, taken aback by the abruptness of your penetration
I was shocked by the flash in your eyes
as you swung about to face me
This distance between us
if pressed
which of us could measure it an arm's length away
if pressed
which of us would choose not to span it.

Father Richard Seminack, Campus Minister

FATHER RICHARD SEMINACK, a native Philadelphian, holds a B.A. in Philosophy from Catholic University of America, where he has also done graduate work and has received the J.C.D. (in Canon Law) in Rome, Italy.

His pastoral ministry has embraced the Ukrainian Cathedral Parish in Philadelphia, as well as, parishes in Ohio and Pennsylvania.

As Campus Minister, Father endeavors to guide the religious life of the students and make them aware of the Gospel and the functions of the Church. A part of campus ministry is the active involvement of students in various activities and projects, aimed at living the Good News message.

CAMPUS NOTES

The small, but active, membership of the UKRAINIAN CULTURAL CLUB sponsored the traditional Christmas Holy Supper. Members served the supper dressed in Ukrainian embroidered blouses and aprons. The holyday decorations on the tables were created and donated by the Club.

The members prepared Christmas gift boxes for orphan students in Philadelphia. In January, club members participated in a demonstration at City Hall Court Yard in Philadelphia, together with the Ukrainian Youth Organizations in the area, in support of human rights in Ukraine.

Club members were also present at the reading of the Proclamation of Ukrainian Independence and sponsored a Divine Liturgy in the college chapel on January 21, in honor of Ukrainian Independence Day.

MEDICAL ASSISTING students participated in, "A Walk Through Jenkintown", a street fair sponsored by the Jenkintown Chamber of Commerce. They gave free blood pressure tests at Manor's booth.

The Admissions Office and the Ukrainian Heritage Center also participated.

Mrs. Eileen Suffet, Dental Assisting Coordinator, has announced the affiliation of the DENTAL ASSISTING PROGRAM with the University of Pennsylvania School of Medicine, the Medical College of Pennsylvania, and the North Hills clinic--a private practice. The affiliations allow Dental Assisting students to apply their learned theory to actual practice.

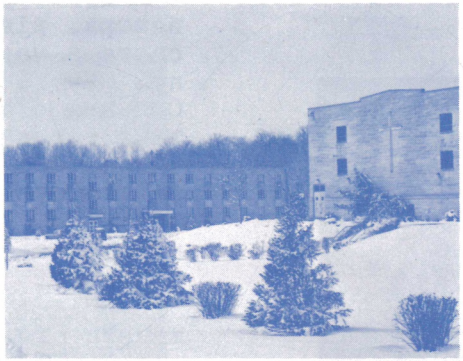
THE MEDICAL CLUB, moderated by Mrs. Marion Samuels, Medical Assisting Coordinator, has sponsored a number of activities: guided tours of several area hosptials; and the observation of an autopsy at Pennsylvania Medical College.

On a lighter note, members brought Christmas joy to the neurologically impaired patients at Pinehill Rehabilitation Center during the Christmas season.

Mrs. Sandra Schrader, instructor of SECRETARIAL SCIENCE, took her Legal Stenography class on a tour of the law firm of Morgan, Lewis and Brockius. They also visited the Mayor's Reception Room and were privileged to sit in the jury box during a session of the Criminal Court.

James Jandrisitz, Business Law instructor, gave the students a guided tour of City Hall.

WINTER HAVOC ON CAMPUS



The ice storm of January 11 and 12 transformed Manor's campus into a winter "fairyland". Mother Nature did it again--a breathtaking sight to see the diamond-glitter on the branches of the trees when the sun's brilliant rays enveloped them. On January 18-20 Mother Nature dumped tons of swirling snow to an accumulation of 13 inches--making Manor's campus a "snow-locked", "snowshocked" "antarctica"--closing the school for 3 days, making roads impassable--a delight to students who had a valid excuse for cutting classes.

"Winter blocked the streams, the roads and outdoor hoses--what a pity it did nothing to obstruct our running noses."

RING DAY ceremonies were held at Manor's Student Lounge on December 12. Father Seminack, college Chaplain, blessed the rings, which were distributed to each student by Sr. Miriam Claire, President.

A Christmas party, sponsored by the students, was given for the administration, faculty, and staff, following the ceremonies.

SR. M. BOHDONNA, Chairperson of the Science-Math Division, has teamed with Professor F. J. Stare, nutrition researcher at Harvard University in a National Science Foundation Grant Project. The project, which will research the role of nutrition in contemporary health problems, will examine such nutritional problems as honest food labeling, regulation of the safety of foods, food additives and dietary goals for the United States. The project's goal is to design a modern college nutrition course aimed at giving practical application of nutrition principles to better diets, that is, applied nutrition.

The MEDICAL LABORATORY TECHNOLOGY PROGRAM at Manor has announced an externship summer program which will require the students to spend 400 hours (10 weeks) in a hospital laboratory, to combine theory learned with actual experience in laboratory procedures.

MR. CHARLES H. BRUDERLE, Dean of the College, Villanova University, retired as Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Manor Junior College. Mr. Bruderle was honored for his six years of dedication and leadership at a dinner hosted by the College's President, Sister Miriam Claire, OSBM. Mr. Bruderle was given an inscribed plaque and crystal paper weight containing a Ukrainian Easter egg, as a memento from the college.

MR. THOMAS J. LYNCH, (left on photo), Vice President of Marketing for Industrial Valley Bank, and vice-chairman of the Board of Trustees was elected its Chairman at the Board's October meeting. Mr. Lynch was introduced to the college community, local area business people and others by Sister Miriam Claire at an afternoon reception in December.

Development Program Introduced At Manor

Annual Gifts Campaign is Integral Part of Program

As Manor Junior College enters its fourth decade as a private, independent Ukrainian Catholic institution of higher learning, it is confidently carrying forward the dreams and vision set by its founders in 1947. Today, that vision, which has guided Manor over the past thirty years, takes on added significance as the College, through its long range planning process, charts the next decade, establishing critical goals and identifying specific means to achieve them. An integral role in this long range process is played by Manor's Development Program.

The Development Program at Manor will provide a dimension to the College's vision of itself and its dreams for the future by gathering together the interest and personal commitment of the College's various constituencies - administration, faculty, students, parents, alumni and friends. The understanding and acceptance of the College's philosophy of education, its own particular role as a private, independent Ukrainian Catholic College, its vision for the future and the overall program to make possible its dreams by all concerned will aid in this advancement.

But a development program without a campaign for broad financial support is incomplete. Such support is an inescapable necessity for any private, independent college if it is to be successful in its educational mission - and if it is to remain private, independent and strong. At Manor, the Annual Gifts Campaign has been inaugurated to seek unrestricted financial support for the College while building a solid foundation for broad base support from various sources.

The basic importance of Manor's Development Program is that it will enable the college to focus in on its particular mission, project its dreams into the future and chart their growth. Equally important will be the involvement and support of Manor's various constituencies - alumnae, parents, friends, trustees and advisory boards, business and civic leaders.

A Development Program is important also for the opportunity it provides Manor and the community to join together in a partnership of service, involvement, understanding and support of the College's educational goals. Finally, the involvement of people, the good will established, the implementation of worthy programs which help Manor Junior College to truly reach its highest destiny - such are the dividends and rewards that accrue both to the college and to those involved in its development program.

Remember: All gifts - large or small - are appreciated and needed. All donors will be remembered in a Novena of Masses.

ANNUAL GIFTS CAMPAIGN - THE "HEART" OF A SUCCESSFUL DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The "heart" of any successful college development program has been the annual giving campaign. Simply stated, annual giving is the regular, recurrent and intelligent financial support of a college or university of one's choice. In America today, annual giving participants are the cornerstone of private financial aid to institutions of higher learning. These friends have a special understanding of the importance of continuing reliable support. Participation in annual giving decreases a college's dependence on student-generated income and assures the strength of the institution for generations to come.

At Manor, the Annual Gifts Campaign has been inaugurated to seek unrestricted giving from administration, faculty, students, parents, alumnae, trustees and advisory boards, friends and benefactors, corporations and foundations.

The campaign was launched in September of last year with an appeal to some 22,000 prior donors and Ukrainian-Americans across the country. Additionally, a special solicitation was made to members of the Board of Trustees and the Advisory Board. This spring, an appeal will be addressed to Manor's Alumnae. In coming years, other constituencies will have an opportunity to express their personal commitment to the College's educational mission and goals.
